

The Friend

May his name endure forever,
his fame continue as long as the sun.
May all nations be blessed in him;
may they pronounce him happy.

Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel,
who alone does wondrous things.

PRAYER

Blessings

Matt Flom, Pastor

*1 Bless the Lord, O my soul,
and all that is within me,
bless his holy name.
2 Bless the Lord, O my soul,
and do not forget all his benefits—
3 who forgives all your iniquity,
who heals all your diseases,
4 who redeems your life from the Pit,
who crowns you with steadfast love and mercy,
5 who satisfies you with good as long as you live
so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.
Psalm 103:1-5*

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

Grace, love, and peace be to you from God, our Father, and our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. When our boys were little, I would tuck them in each night with a blessing. I would make the sign of the cross on their foreheads and say to them, "I love you, mommy loves you, and God loves you." Blessings are important for they convey in one act a promise, a hope, and a love. The Bible is full of blessings; for people, kings, prophets, and others. I hope you take time in your households to bless each other in God's name.

In August we are continuing our twice a month Wednesday night worship with two services of blessing. On August 11th, we will include in our service a blessing of animals. Bring your dogs, cats, and other pets. We will offer a blessing for them. If you're not sure if your pet will get along with others or you don't want to bring them, you can also bring a picture of them and we will offer a blessing. We will be outdoors unless there is bad weather, so we can make room for our pets. On August 25th we will have a blessing for the coming school year. We encourage families to come and we will lead a blessing. We also will have a blessing for teachers and school staff. These are excellent opportunities to bring family, friends, or neighbors. May God bless you and your family.

*God's Blessings
to You*

Praise the Lord

Eric Nelson, Associate Pastor

*Praise God with trumpet sound;
praise God with lute and harp!
Praise God with tambourine and dance;
praise God with strings and pipe!
Praise God with clanging cymbals;
praise God with loud clashing cymbals!
Let everything that breathes praise the Lord!
Praise the Lord!
-Psalm 150:3-5*

Psalm 150 is one I have turned to frequently in my life. At younger ages, it was to help me justify playing my drums loudly with loud clashing cymbals in praise of God. God bless my parents for putting up with that! But these words are a great reminder throughout any season of life. "Let everything that breathes praise the Lord!"

All living things are meant to live in praise of the Lord. Music has the ability to go beyond mere words. It helps us give praise to God in beautiful melodies and harmonies, in crescendos and in quiet beauty. From the quietest breath to the loudest clashing cymbal, we are to praise the Lord.

I had the great privilege to sing in the Chapel Choir when I attended Concordia College. We sang praise to God in many songs we practiced over and over for Christmas concerts and small tours. But there was a beautiful song of praise that moved me more deeply outside of our time up on the choral risers on stage. We would regularly gather for a meal together in a church fellowship hall before performance and would sing the doxology.

Praise God, from whom all blessings flow;
Praise God, all creatures here below;
Praise God above, ye heavenly host;
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Amen (ELW 885)

We praised God in performance, but this was back to simply gathering together in praise and thanksgiving. It was a wonderful practice in praising and thanking God for who God is. One could enter the evening with all sorts of thoughts on the mind, good or bad, but praising God always brought us back to gratitude for who God is. The same is true in daily life, on the good and bad days we can stop and praise God in gratitude for who God is.

Let us practice and remember this regularly, giving praise to God in all seasons.

"Let everything that breathes praise the Lord!"

*Praise
The Lord*

JOY & PRAYER

Don't Be Bothered by the Weeds

Margie Guelker, Visitation Pastor

I come to the garden alone, while the dew is still on the roses; And the voice I hear falling on my ear, the Son of God discloses. And he walks with me and he talks with me, And he tells me I am His own; And the joy we share as we tarry there, None other has ever known. C. Austin Miles

My gardens are somewhat of a mess this year. Try as I might, I cannot keep up with the weeds. I have some very good excuses, the heat for one. But to me it is still incredibly beautiful. I've had the good sense to plant perennials through the years and they bless me by emerging, first one and then another.

My favorites are the lilies. One kind of lily or another blooms for most of the summer, but in July they explode! I have an off-white lily called "gentle shepherd." It is delicate in every way and the fragrance is extraordinary.

All of this takes place in the midst of the mess. They defy the weeds and seem to laugh at them saying, "Look, you can't keep me from growing and being beautiful!" And then the butterflies and bees show up to harvest the richness of the blooms.

I stood and watched the bees crawling all over everything this past week. They were so busy they didn't notice the weeds. They were not into perfection, just pollen, thank you very much. They had work to do! I hold my breath and watch the butterflies land gently on my phlox and butterfly weed and take dainty sips waiting until I notice before they fly away.

God is in my garden and God doesn't care much about the weeds either. God knows that I will do what I am called to do even in the midst of the mess of sin because God is with me, gently calling me to see the joy of the beauty set before me. Breathe deeply, God beckons, I am the fragrance of your soul.

Mid-Year Financial Summary

Greg Rosholt, Treasurer

I knew we could do this. Amidst all of the uncertainty that the COVID-19 has brought to us, we have never failed to respond. Our church has stayed open. We have paid our employees. The F&CS and Community Supper have fed the hungry. The F&CS has provided clothes to people who need them. Through the wonder of the computer, our congregation has been able to worship each week. This has been a truly remarkable experience. It has all been possible because of the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ and the generosity of the congregation.

This is where St. Philip's stands financially through the end of June.

Income: $360,164.23

Expenses: ($341,599.10)

Total: $18,565.13

To me, the first half of the year has been a financial success. With your help, I trust that we will finish the year in the same manner.

God bless each one of you.

Greg Rosholt, Treasurer

Made Perfectly

Connie Yerigan, Director of Children, Youth & Family Ministries

For we are what he has made us, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand to be our way of life. Ephesians 2:10

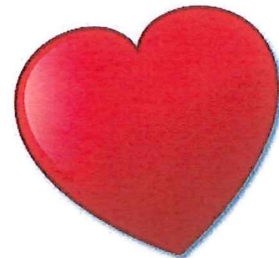

There are many perks I get to enjoy as part of my calling to this ministry. One being that I get to meet and spend time with many people from our congregation and community. Most I have known for a while, some I see more often than others, but all hold a special place in my heart. From the family whose children I have known since they were very young and are now grown, to the couple who have brightened my day with a warm smile and a conversation each Sunday morning for nearly 20 years. It is a blessing to know them, and I thank God for them.

Another amazing blessing in all of that, is the fact that each one of us is unique. A true miracle, perfectly made and loved by God. At our recent Youth Lock-in, I couldn't help but look around at the youth gathered. Laughter filling the halls, friendships being enjoyed, and new ones being made. Not one person the same as the next. I fought back tears as I took it all in. Those young people, having a great time together, all with their own unique personalities. They were all made perfectly by our God.

As summer is coming to a close, I invite you to take a few minutes at your next family gathering, to look around and see those that surround you. Give thanks to God for them.

Each one of us is unique. A true miracle, perfectly made and loved by God.

You are so loved by God.

Happy Giving!

LaRae Kazmierkoski, President

Happy summer, one and all! I can't believe we are almost to the end of our summer already. We are half way through the year! There certainly are reasons to be glad to be at this point. We have suffered through a long, difficult stretch and it is good to see things returning to some sort of normalcy. As promised, Greg Rosholt, our treasurer, updated the congregation as to our finances and we are pleased that with half the year over, we are doing well. Our income is exceeding our expenses which is great! Historically, the summer months see a decline in giving, but so far this summer that has not been the case. So, thank you for continuing your support whether you are here, out of town, at the lake, or busy with summer activities. I think our giving app has helped. We no longer have to remember to mail our envelope when we will not be in church during the summer! As programming opens again this fall, our expenses will rise, However, I am confident we can continue to cover those expenses with the level of current giving. We are optimistic that giving for the remainder of the year will continue to be strong. God has blessed our congregation with health and prosperity and we give him thanks!

The garage sale is a cornerstone community service event of St. Philip's and we would love to have you as part of the big team making it all happen. Join in the fun and fellowship that is the St. Philip's Garage Sale!

There are so many different ways you can help, whatever your abilities and interests. Whether you have two hours to give or you have days of time to give. Just a few examples of how you can help:

- Assist with initial table and display setup on Wednesday, August 4
- Assist with unloading donations from vehicles during drop off days (Friday, August 6-Sunday, August 15)
- Help sort and price donations (Friday, August 6 - Tuesday, August 17)
- Help during the days of the garage sale – help take purchases to a shopper's car, be a greeter, or help with security/parking lot monitoring. You can help with prep and cleanup of meals for the volunteers. Assist in one of the many departments - from clothing to linens to housewares and more!
- Be a cashier or bagger during the sale.
- After the magic is done and the sale closes on Saturday, we always need lots of help with packing up leftover items, tearing down tables and displays, and cleaning up the church rooms used. Many hands help make this important part of the sale go quickly.

Interested in volunteering? Contact LaRae Kazmierkoski at [763-571-4266 or laraekaz@aol.com].

Gains and Losses

Lynette Thompson, Garden Group

Here it is, mid-summer, in the garden. How did we long for warmer outdoor temperatures only weeks ago? The record numbers of 90 degree plus days have been challenging. We've been busy, trying to provide essential amounts of water for our vegetables to grow.

In the midst of the heat, we picked record amounts of raspberries this year. The berries were small, but their flavor made up for their size. It was a delight to walk only a few steps into St. Philip's Food Shelf with the treats.

There are blossoms on sugar pea vines, beans, tomatoes, and squash. We garden gals are excited to pick and weigh the first rounds of produce. Who doesn't love to announce the arrival of a __ pound zucchini?

A few garden pests have arrived. I found two Japanese beetles hiding in my box of raspberries. We were not dismayed at the community of caterpillars who found their way into our dill patch, because we knew they would transform into swallowtail butterflies. Rabbits may discover the buffet of goodies we've planted, especially the beans.

These garden gains and losses are typical, even expected. Although each summer season is a bit different, we acknowledge the garden is not protected from all adversity.

The same is true for the journey of our lives. Intellectually I know that, but I've been surprised at the level of my dismay, when I hear of human losses of friends and others, Covid-related or otherwise. My completed immunization against the Covid-19 virus gave me a wonderful emotional boost. But that didn't immunize me from all of life's difficulties. Maybe I deluded myself, thinking my new vaccine protection would provide some temporary pause from more losses. Or perhaps I have become more appreciative of the sanctity of all lives around me.

Update from Tokyo

Jim and Carol Sack

Letter written July 1, 2021

Because of the Covid-19 situation, things are still rather subdued here in Tokyo and much of our activities are still curtailed to some degree. Therefore, we thought we might just give an update about current issues here in Japan. Here is some information about both the Olympics and the situation with the Coronavirus.

Japan had a successful bid to host the 2020 Summer Olympics in the city of Tokyo. That right was won in July of 2011, just 4 months after the devastating earthquake, tsunami, and the meltdown of the nuclear power plant in Fukushima. It was a very joyous event for the country immediately after that awful disaster. The excitement continued to build until we reached the infamous year of 2020, when a global pandemic made it impossible to have the Olympics as scheduled. They were delayed for a year and are due to begin on July 23 of this year. However, as you very well know, Covid-19 continues to plague the world with new and more prevalent variants like the Delta variant casting a deep shadow on the Olympics.

Update from Tokyo

Jim and Carol Sack

There is much discussion and a wide variety of opinions about whether the games should even be held. Even if they are to be held, the question of whether spectators should be able to watch or not is being widely discussed. At this moment Prime Minister Suga has said that the Olympics could be held without spectators depending on the Covid-19 situation. This statement was recently made even after it was decided to fill venues up to 50% of capacity with an upper limit of 10,000 people (no overseas spectators are allowed).

In recent weeks the infections in Tokyo have climbed after a state of emergency was lifted last month. Yesterday we had 716 new Covid-19 cases in Tokyo and some health experts have warned the daily figure could increase to 3,000/day in August. The government has revealed that so far six people related to the games have entered Japan while infected with the delta mutation of the virus. Many Japanese think the government should be more concerned about the welfare of the citizens, than giving priority to putting on the games. It is amazing that over 90% of the people continue to be vigilant about wearing masks, which probably has allowed Japan to maintain relatively low numbers of infections.

Of course, when Japan was awarded the games it led to a great deal of optimism about financial opportunities, but that has turned into another tsunami of financial problems. Since no overseas spectators are allowed into the country huge financial losses are expected. Overall the anticipated 2020 Summer Olympics have become a huge headache for participants, organizers, sponsors, governments, and people in general. As it looks more and more like we could see the Olympics put on without spectators, that would bring even more financial loss.

Torrential rain has also been plaguing Japan again this rainy season. There has been flooding in numerous locations, destruction of infrastructure, and a very serious landslide wiping out 80 or more homes in the last 24 hours.

With these issues at hand, we ask for your prayers for Japan and its people. Please pray for the many who have suffered at the hands of flooding and landslides. We also ask that you lift up the Olympics and the safety of people in regard to the pandemic. As always, we want to pray for the churches of the Japanese Evangelical Lutheran Church and their pastors, who are attempting to carry on ministry in a variety of ways. On our side, we will continue to pray for the Covid situation in the States, for people who have had to deal with mass shootings, those affected by the building collapse in Surfside, for each of our sponsoring congregations. Thank you for your partnership in the ministry of Christ.

With all of the many issues you and we are having to face in our lives today, the words of Paul in Philippians 3:13-14 seem to hit the nail on the head. "Beloved, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but this one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the heavenly call of God in Christ Jesus." May each of us have the courage to fight the good fight no matter what or who the opponent may be.

In Christ,

Jim and Carol Sack
